

Guelph Centre for Urban Organic Farming

OPEN HOUSE

Saturday, September, 18th, 2010

12:00 p.m. - 4:00 p.m.

- Guided 'tasting tours' of the organic garden, a great way to introduce young and old to the joys of fresh food!
- Top Ontario Chefs prepare mouth watering cuisine using organic produce from the gardens seasonal bounty
- Live music, corn roast educational demonstrations and children's activities throughout the day
- The 'Garden Market' will be open so bring your shopping bags!

Admission is FREE

A $10 Food Passport can be purchased to sample our Chef's organic fare (all proceeds to the GCUOF and G2T)

Hosted by: Garden2Table; a real food program for kids

The Guelph Centre for Urban Organic Farming (GCUOF) is a

1 hectare learning facility established at the Arboretum of the University of Guelph to complement the academic B.Sc.(Agr) Major in Organic Agriculture. Its mandate is to offer hands-on learning in organic market gardening, urban agriculture, resource conservation, and a suite of other life skills central to food security and safety in a resource-limited era.

Garden2Table is a student run project of the School of Hospitality and Tourism Management. The program aims to provide children with enjoyable education about food, agriculture and their natural environment – primarily to positively influence their food choices.

UNIVERSITY
of GUELPH

CHANGING LIVES
IMPROVING LIFE